Joseph Stockman

"Team collaboration is a vital ingredient to a successful team and company. Without it, there is nothing."

Age: 35
Location: Irvine, CA
Educaction: University of California Irvine: B.S. in Computer Science and Engineering
Job Title: Head of Software
            Engineering group

With a wife and 3 kids, life in the Stockman household would be nothing short of a chaotic mess if it wasn't for Joseph Stockman and his devotion to team collaboration. Having been captain of his college soccer team, Joseph is no stranger to the importance of teamwork. While soccer is but a distant memory of his past, Joseph still continues to build his life on the foundations of collaboration, integrating it both into his household and workplace as head of a Software Engineering group. Having a group of highly intelligent and capable individuals is one thing but to Joseph, there is no victory without teamwork.

Joseph's Goals:
Joseph is looking for educational books on team collaboration that can help develop his team's skills of working together. With people so caught up in social media and their personal lives, Joseph knows that it is vital that his team keeps a steady foundation of collaboration so that they may speak freely with one another without fear of judgement or disapproval. He wants his group to view each other as teammates rather than as coworkers and feels that old fashioned books are the best way to convey this message. Joseph has tried going to the bookstore and searching online but none were able to provide him with specific titles suitable for the job. With personalized recommendations right at his fingertips, Joseph will be able to spread his teachings on the importance of collaboration and finally bring his team to victory!